19th Century Original Painted Swedish Pine Clock Cabinet

19th century Swedish pine cabinet incorporating an upper clock feature. This unique piece retains the original finish in an ochre/brown background with much natural pine showing through and teal blue accents. It is the decoratively curved, carved details that set this cabinet apart from others, with small details highlighted in contrasting original teal blue painted finish.

The lower cabinet doors open to reveal shelving that sits "around" the clock base. While the 2 cabinet doors do not have an interior latch, they sit well closed. This clock cabinet has been restored, is strong, stable, and ready for use. Built in one section, please confirm accessibility for installation.

Typical age-related wear is present throughout, such as cracks, nicks, age related separation (at seams, see clock face and back, etc.) and additional wear consistent with a piece of this age and use. While the wood cabinet is restored, stable and ready for use, the clock works no longer function. Upon arrival, many clients opt to have a battery function locally installed for ease of use.

Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition, and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting all impact how item is viewed. Photos are part of item description, please ask questions or request additional photos of specific areas if needed.
