Early 20th Century Danish Round Coffee Table with Removable Tray

Early 20th century Danish round coffee table, crafted in oak. The table stands on long cabriole legs ending in lion's paw feet, giving the small scale form a refined and decorative look. A carved border rim encircles the top, and the center features a removable metal tray set within the interior. The tray rests on a pedestal and may be used for serving solid items if desired. Please note there are cracks and separations within the metal base, though it remains usable. Typical age related cracks, nicks, and scratches are minor and do not impact the function or appeal of this small scale coffee table.

Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition, and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting all impact how item is viewed. Photos are part of item description, please ask questions or request additional photos of specific areas if needed.
