Early 19th Century Carved Chestnut Console Table with Two Drawers

Early 19th century Portuguese carved console table, crafted in chestnut. The table features two beautifully carved drawers with wood knobs, each flanked by floral carving, and is raised on six turned legs resting on a lower trestle base. The chestnut shows a beautiful patina, with darker and lighter tones reflecting across the top and base. Age related separation of two planks and old distress along the top show old repairs. Nicks, gouges, scratches, and signs of old wormhole activity are seen along the top and base. Please note the wormholes are old, dry, and no longer active. The base shows a rich dark patina, and both drawers function. Restored, strong, stable, and ready for use. Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition, and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting all impact how item is viewed. Photos are part of item description, please ask questions or request additional photos of specific areas if needed.
