Late 19th Century Pair of Swedish Gustavian White Painted Benches with Black Seats

Late 19th century pair of Swedish Gustavian benches, crafted in pine. Unusual to find as a pair in this size, these benches have graceful curved sides and rest on saber legs, giving them a refined and classic Swedish look. The newer antique white painted finish is lightly distressed, revealing natural pine below and adding to the aged grace and character of the pair. The contrasting black seats provide a striking balance to the soft painted finish. Restored, strong, stable, and ready to use. Minor cracks or separation are seen in the wood seats, along with nicks and scratches reflective of age, none of which impact function. A beautiful pair ready to be placed and enjoyed.

Seat Height: 18.75"
