19th Century Small Swedish Original Gray Painted Pine Cabinet Nightstand

19th century small Swedish cabinet or nightstand, crafted in pine with its original painted finish. Layered blue-gray tones are joined by areas of antique white showing through the distressed surface, creating a beautifully aged appearance developed through generations of use.

Two small cabinet doors provide enclosed storage and rest in place without a locking mechanism. A slender lower drawer adds additional storage beneath. The compact proportions make this piece well suited for use as a nightstand, bedside cabinet, or small accent cabinet.

Cracks and age related separation between the planks are visible along the top. Additional nicks, scratches, distress, and other signs of wear are present throughout, particularly around the edges, reflecting authentic use without affecting function.

Restored, stable, and ready to use.
