Antique Long Pine Farm House Trestle Table

At almost 9' long, this old farmhouse table will serve well in today's modern home. The trestle base with pegs made these tables easy to take apart, transport and assemble quickly and easily. Review the close up photos to see the galvanized metal that was attached to the ends of the stretchers, making this a rather unusual find. This pine dining table has been restored so it is in strong/stable condition and given a light wax finish bringing out the warmth and patina of the pine. Any cracks, scratches, marks, dings etc. are age related and do not impact the function.
