Antique Original Blue Folk Art Painted Bench With Storage from Hungary

This delightful storage bench from Hungary still maintains its original blue paint. The charming flowers and wreaths on the front were a traditional folk art style of the period. The hinged seat with the paint slightly worn from years of use, lifts to reveal ample storage (divided into 2 sections) for blankets, quilts, or even shoes in a mud room. Typical age-related separation of the planks that compose the base are strong and functional. Professionally restored and finished with a satin wax, the joints are tight and the hinged seat functions. Any old cracks (including along the seat) have been restored; knicks, areas of wear and distress are reflective of age and do not impact the function of the bench; entire bench is strong stable and ready for use.
