Antique Large Blue Painted Baroque Armoire, Denmark

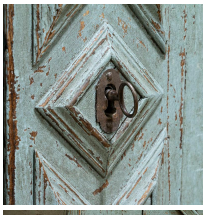

This massive oak armoire is even more impressive due to the baroque carving that adds depth to the paneled doors. The interior reveals multiple removeable shelves for storage. Please examine close up photos to appreciate the details including the original hardware and fuctional key/lock. While the blue painted finish is newer, it has been distressed to fit the age and character of the armoire, revealing the natural oak below while adding depth and character as well. Measurements listed at the widest section, which is the top cornice. This huge armoire is restored and ready for use.
