Large Antique White Painted Chest of Drawers from Sweden

The soft white painted finish is captivating in this attractive large chest of four drawers with brass pulls. While the painted finish is new it compliments the age, rococo style and serpentine curves of this chest that dates back to the late 1700's. The layered painted finish has been distressed, creating aged character while revealing the natural wood below. Note the original wrought iron handles on each side, which make it easier to move this substantial chest of drawers. A strong and elegant style made entirely of oak which has been restored. All wear, age related cracks or separation (including drawer bottoms) is commensurate with age.
