Original Blue Painted Antique Swedish Country Drop Leaf Table

There is wonderful charisma to this sweet drop leaf table due to the varied colors of blue paint layered on through the years and now softly distressed. Unique to this table is the single, extremely long drawer that extends almost the entire width (note the other side has a "false front" which appears to be a drawer but is not). While the painted top has been worn in areas down to the natural pine, you will see a dark blue trim or border "framing" each leaf and center panel. This style of drop leaf was common in Sweden, as they were experts in utilizing small spaces well. When closed, the table is only 18" deep yet it expands to 75" when fully opened. The table has been restored and given a wax finish, it is sturdy including the table extension and is ready to use and enjoy.
