Antique 19th Century Blue Painted Armoire with Carved Details from France

The remarkable paint and carved details on this lovely French armoire add allure to the piece. Please review the close up details to appreciate the professionally applied newer blue painted finish. The layers of blue and white/cream is enchanting, slightly distressed to match the age and grace of the armoire while accenting the intricate carved details as well. Also take note of the old hardware including the lock and interior latch (left door) that still function. Restored, this armoire is strong, stable and ready to be used and enjoyed. Signs of wear are commensurate with age including old scratches, nicks, separation of wood (see back planks) which are all typical and do not detract from the beauty nor function of this armoire. Lock functions with one key, which is included.
