Antique Hand-Painted Cabinet Cupboard With Flowers from Sweden circa 1820's

The original hand-painted details of this delightful cabinet/cupboard have aged gracefully and now bear a soft patina obtained only by the passage of much time. Notice the lovely flower details inside the panel and faux wood background which were traditional folk art styling of the day. The old wrought iron hinges are still in place and a hook has been added to keep the door closed.
This pine cabinet has been professionally restored and given a waxed finish; it is sturdy and ready for use. Any scratches, nicks, cracks, distress or signs of wear reflect generations of use and add to its warm vintage appeal.
