Antique Small Chest of Drawers Painted Blue from Denmark circa 1800's

This delightful antique chest of drawers from the early 1800's has been given new life with a recent layered blue painted finish. Note in the photos the slight distressing which compliments its age and brings out touches of the natural wood beneath. This small dresser may also be used as a nightstand, with four drawers which each have two pulls, a key is used to open/lock the drawers. This chest of drawers has been restored so it is strong and stable, ready for use. Any nicks, scratches, separation (including drawer bottoms), etc are simply signs of age and do not detract from the beauty nor function of this chest.
