Antique White and Black Painted Apothecary Kitchen Island from Sweden circa 1840-60

This antique 12-drawer pine apothecary or old shop counter was used in a country store in Sweden in the mid to late 1800's. As a free standing counter resting on bun feet, it will serve well as a modern kitchen island.

This sideboard has been given a professionally applied painted finish with layers of soft white and light gray. The top is a contrasting black, lightly distressed to fit the age and character of the apothecary. Each of the 12 drawers has an interior of 14.25"w x 23.75"d x 5"h. One central drawer as a divider which can be removed upon the buyer's request.

Restored, this island is strong, stable and drawers function. It is ready to be used on a daily basis.

Any scratches, cracks, dings, or signs of wear are commensurate with age and do not detract from the beauty nor function of this lovely piece.

Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition and details; photo lighting, individual monitor display and home lighting may all impact how item is viewed.

It has been given a new, professionally applied white painted finish.
