Antique Pine Secretary Desk, Sweden circa 1820-40

Lovely pine secretary or "bureau" from Sweden from the early 1800's.

The age of this secretary is revealed in the warmth of the deep patina in the pine which only happens through generations of use.

The desk top opens and rests on two extending arms to reveal eight interiors small drawers (in contrasting red tones) and three cubbies for organization and storage.

The interior narrow decorative "columns" are actually 2 additional hidden drawers. Four large lower drawers add to the traditional storage options built into this traditional Swedish country bureau.

Open depth with desk top in use: 33.5 in. No key included.

Restored and waxed, this secretary is ready to be used and enjoyed.

Please refer to professional photos for clear understanding of color, condition and details. Old scratches, dings, minor separation of wood, stains etc are all typical signs of wear reflective of age and add to the authentic vintage appeal of this Swedish country desk.
